USC School of Cinematic Arts

PHYSICAL PRODUCTION
Joe Wallenstein
Director, Physical Production

November 16, 2018

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter verifies that Ernesto Sandoval is enrolled as a graduate student at the University of Southern California's School of Cinematic Arts. Ernesto is directing a 582 film entitled, "The Devil's Son." His student producers are Mehmet Gungoren, Sam Frickleton and Ericka De Alexander.

A 582 project at the USC School of Cinematic Arts is an independent thesis film at the graduate level. These advanced projects afford the student a greater degree of freedom to explore areas of filmic expression than might be found in other venues.

582 films are privately financed by the students and receive no assistance from USC facilities or equipment, nor are they covered by USC's insurance policy or Screen Actors Guild agreement. However, USC mentors guide students in initiating independent insurance and SAG agreements.

Neither USC nor the School of Cinematic Arts owns the copyright to any product of the 582 projects.

If I can provide further information, please contact me at (213) 740-7126.
